

Volunteer position (part time)
Bushwalking Victoria
Coordinator – Field Research Officers

Bushwalking Victoria (BWV) is the peak body representing recreational walkers in Victoria. BWV has a network of sixteen volunteer Field Research Officers who operate across the state. These officers collect information and intelligence about:

- The condition of walking tracks
- Threats to the environmental integrity of walking areas
- Other matters, such as land management practices, that impact on bushwalking amenity that is used by the community as a whole.

We are looking for someone who has good organising and people management skills to help train and coordinate these volunteers. The role also involves analysis of and timely action on information from the field.

This is an interesting and challenging position that will enable you to enhance your skills and make a worthwhile contribution to the community recreation sector.
